U.S. General Services Administration

Mary D. Gibert
Regional Commissioner
General Services Administration
Public Buildings Service
National Capital Region

Mary Gibert serves as the General Services Administration's Public Buildings Service (PBS) Regional Commissioner for the National Capital Region (NCR). As such, Ms. Gibert is responsible for the asset management, design, construction, leasing, and building management of approximately 100 million square feet of government-owned and leased space in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area. In this role, she oversees an annual budget of approximately $3.5 billion and leads a workforce of approximately 1,200 employees. Under her leadership of PBS' largest and most diversified region, PBS provides effective, mobile, sustainable workplace solutions for federal agencies at the best value for the American taxpayer.

Over Ms. Gibert's 30 years with the civilian federal government, she has served in a wide variety of national and regional roles for the General Services Administration, the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, the Department of Defense and the Internal Revenue Service. Prior to being selected as the NCR Regional Commissioner, Ms. Gibert was the Director of the Presidential Transition Team for the 2016 election cycle. Also, one of her widely recognized roles was that as a GSA American Recovery and Revitalization Act (ARRA) Zone Executive. In this role, Ms. Gibert was responsible for the delivery of over $1.4B distributed across 114 projects.

In addition to her service on the federal government's civilian side, Ms. Gibert served with distinction in the U.S. Army from 1977 to 1984. She is the recipient of numerous awards including the U.S. Armed Forces' Meritorious Service Medal. She holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management from the University of Maryland, College Park and is a graduate of the Federal Executive Institute, Leadership for a Democratic Society.
